BRITISH GOV'T. WANT INCREASED OUTPUT FOR INCREASED WAGES

Are Labour Leaders Losing Control of the workers?

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Cabinet discussed to-night the grave situation arising from the threat of railway and transport workers to force the government to negotiate with the miners. Whether any decision was reached was not disclosed up to eleven o'clock. Two grave questions are worrying the political and industrial world, first to what extent Labour leaders are losing control of the workers, and second, whether a political crisis and an appeal to the country will develop from the miners dispute. It is stated that James Henry Thomas, General Secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, has exerted the greatest efforts to get action taken by the railwaymen postponed for a few days, but that his influence was never borne. Lloyd George was in formal consultation with some of the

What the Treaty Means

Louisville Courier-Journal: The Treaty of Versailles is the certificate of America's victory in the war. It is Germany's settlement with the United States for all the crimes committed against this country, such as the sinking of the Lusitania and the loss of American lives, the destruction of property of American citizens. It transfers to this Government German ships; it recognizes the title of this country to the $900,000,000 of German property confiscated during the war and arranges disposition of the proceeds. It marks the surrender of the Government whose definite and complete defeat was demanded by Americans of all walks just two years ago. That Treaty was not won by Woodrow Wilson. He was but the negotiating agent. It was won by the blood and sacrifice of millions of Americans. It is the culmination of the hard work, the Liberty Loan, drives, the Red Cross efforts, the meatless days, the heatless nights, the months of military training, the struggles against snaky submarines, the hell thr-

Political Words and Phrases

"Gerrymander," "Boom," "Heeler," "Looking After His Fences."

There are various peculiarly political words and phrases that have sprung up in the course of American history and have in many cases even found their way into the dictionaries. There is the "gerrymander," for example, the name for the practice which the German refer to as "electoral geometry." One picturesque word is a combination of Gerry and salamander. In 1811, during the incumbency of Elbridge Gerry as Governor of Massachusetts, the Democrats re-districted the State so as to secure the following senatorial election to their party, and the fancied resemblance of the map of one of the districts to a salamander gave rise to the name. Gerry's name was used because it was supposed he was back of the practice, but in after years it was learned that he had opposed it.

The word "boom," as applied to politics, was first used by Editor J. B. McCullage in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, July 18, 1878, when he wrote "the Republicans of every other State are of the same way of thinking. The fact is, the Grant movement is booming." In explaining the expression afterward to the editors of the Century Dictionary, Mr. McCullage said in part, "I used to hear the pilots say of the river when rising rapidly and overflowing its banks that it was booming. The idea I wished to convey was that the Grant movement was rising, swelling, etc. The word was generally adopted. * * * I used it as a noun after a while, and spoke of the Grant boom."

The word "heeler" may be traced back to an old low-German word meaning "heel-trader," or a lackey who follows at the heels of his master. Bryce says, "what the client was to his patron in Rome, what the vassal was to his lord in the Middle Ages, that the heelers are to their boss in the great transatlantic States. They render a personal feudal service, which their suzerain repays with the gift of a livelihood."

Once while John Sherman was a Senator he went back to his old home at Mansfield, Ohio, to look after his farm near that city, he having learned that things were getting a bit run down—the fences broken in places and the buildings out of repair. The citizens of Mansfield, with whom the Senator was very popular, at once got up a big demonstration for him and demanded a speech, supposing as a matter of course that he was making quiet preparations for the next campaign. In his speech he endeavored to convince them that his speech had no political significance, but that he had just come home to look after his fences and other matters around his farm. Newspaper jokesmiths all over the country grabbed his remark and quoted it with joyous sarcasm; and since then, "looking after his fences" has meant that a candidate is circulating among the boys, shaking hands making promises and otherwise keeping his machine in smooth running order.

Nation Cannot Afford Ignorance

Sir Arthur Currie Makes Striking Speech in Toronto To-day.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—General Sir Arthur W. Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., to-day addressed the Empire Club on "The Relations between the Universities and the Nation."

Sir Arthur said that he believed that the Universities should be consulted on all questions of education, as for example, the nature of the courses of study, the qualifications of teachers, the choice of text books and general problems of school management.

The Universities must also be taught to think politically in terms of government, which is one of the highest functions of the State.

Sir Arthur deprecated the fact that many people were disposed to speak slightly of the so-called politicians and of those who were engaged in the pleasant art of making laws.

Duty of Educated Man.

Educated men, so far from shunning politics, should take a keen and lively interest in every phase of the Government of their country. Sir Arthur considered that the comparative absence of corruption and political machinery in the Government of the Old Country was in no small degree due to the number of University men who held seats in the Houses of Parliament. Oxford and Cambridge played a tremendous part not only in the political life of the British Isles, but also in the wider problems of inter-

The Caribou of the North

—here is the big game that ranks with the moose in its attraction for the hunter. Ranging from Newfoundland to Alaska it requires the vast expanse afforded by the barren and scrub lands of the Arctic and sub-Arctic. Like the grizzly it is one of the first animals to retire before the advance of settlement.

Far above all other animals Caribou demand solitude. This is hard to realize for they appear devoid of all fear as they mill around to the windward, but, follow the herd once it has got the wind and struck its line of flight, and one realizes the necessity of ammunition of long range, velocity and accuracy.

Good Caribou grounds are still fairly easy of access, but great care should be used in the selection of ammunition.

Sir Arthur felt that the Universities and the Nation should be linked up in a striving for all that was best in the spiritual sphere. Nobody should be more interested than the Universities in keeping the ideal before the people, for their future life and influence depended on the survival and propagation of the ideal.

Ignorance Most Expensive
The most expensive thing in the world to-day is ignorance, and when its cost is compared with that of education, the latter appears an almost ridiculously cheap investment.

Sir Arthur said that he fairly believed the power, success, and security of a nation depended on, or was in almost direct proportion to, the standards of their educational system.

Demand is Strong for Fish in Portugal and Spain--Improvement in Cure a Bright Feature --Exporters' Pronouncement Has Had a Steadying Effect Upon Trade--Efforts of Traitors to Country to Start a Panic and Lower Price of Fish a Flat Failure

The communist papers last evening again repeated the infamous lie that Mr. Hawes had left Italy, and the Consorzio had refused to buy fish. This falsehood has been uttered and repeated day by day for a week in the hope that the fish buyers would become panicky and refuse to buy fish because of Italy's refusal to purchase just now, resulting, they hoped, in a big slump and the filling of a certain merchant's store with Labrador fish at panicky prices or at terms dictated by the would-be king of Water Street. Mr. Hawes is in Genoa and negotiating with the Consorzio, who yesterday submitted a proposal to Mr. Hawes in reference to the purchase of fish. Yesterday very encouraging cables were received from Portugal. The demand for fish was the strongest for two years. One firm there offered 80— for a cargo of large fish. Several cargoes of Labrador have arrived and have been sold in Spain at good prices. The only news of importance from Greece is that the shipment of fish sent forward to New York by last Rosalind is being offered at 7/6 per qtl. less than regulation prices. This is what we are up against in connection with the export from here via New York by Jew firms. Fortunately only 115 casks were exported by these shippers. The local price of true Labrador will not decline much, but shore soft, imitation Labrador, which all were warned not to cure, will not be in demand for export as such. Much of it will have to be carried over by buyers for spring curing into shore fish, for it is probable that when May arrives there will be an absolute scarcity of shore fish for all markets. It is a big mistake to cure Newfoundland as Imitation Labrador. The markets are constantly crying out against this quality of fish, and shippers of Labrador fish when making foreign sales are asked continually to guarantee that the quality is true Labrador. It would be well for those holding small quantities to hold it until spring and make it shore cure, which is not impossible.

The improvement in the cure of Labrador this year is one of the brightest features of this season's situation. Fish Inspectors declare cargoes shipped off the coast to be the best ever handled, and all the exporters join in endorsing the Inspectors' reports.

The cure of shore fish is also one of the special features of this season. Fish is well split, well washed face and back, all clots of blood removed and three-fourths of the large is white naped. It is not necessary to white nape fish under 18 inches. The standardization rules do not call for such. The rules do not require white naped Labrador. The only fish required to be white naped by the rules is shore cured over 18 inches in length.

The early curing season was unsuitable for securing best results, as the sun was too warm and the days too hot, which resulted in much sunburnt fish, but all the September cure is sound and devoid of sun-cracked fish.

The fishermen deserve the thanks of the whole country for their efforts to improve the cure, and it is another wonderful demonstration of the influence for good of the F. P. U. and Mr. Coaker amongst the fishermen of the country. There is absolutely no doubt about the advantages and benefits of the Fish Exporting Regulations. Without such to-day, shore fish would be selling at $6.00 per qtl. and Labrador at $4.00. Every effort has been made by the communist press and the organ of the Consorzio, backed by two or three political merchants, to stampede the markets and bring down prices here, so as to be enabled to make what political capital possible out of the result of a big slump in prices. A merchant has been impertinent enough to publicly declare that shore fish should be sold by the fishermen at $6.00 per quintal because the buyers in Europe were poor. Merchants here have telegraphed to the Consorzio offering fish contrary to regulations and have repeated their cables demanding a reply.

The Consorzio has treated all such with contempt, as it is fully aware that the laws must be observed.

The organ of the Consorzio has been in close touch with Genoa, and if it was paid $100,000 it could not have served the Consorzio interests more faithfully. The sneak that edits that despicable sheet deserves horse whipping. In no other civilized country would such conduct be tolerated. That same paper was the means of taking some scores of thousands of dollars out of exporters' pockets in 1918 by its insane conduct in publishing full details of the result of a meeting of exporters held to deal with the Consorzio problems.

Some treacherous villain went from that meeting to the press and gave out information that brought the price of fish in Italy down from 150— per qtl. to 115—, and well nigh ruined two or three exporters. The Exporters' Association, which unanimously censured the vile campaign of destruction manipulated by the street opponents of the Government and backed so insanely by the press editors, who should know better, are aware of much that has been going on here and in Genoa and were forced to administer on Wednesday a dose of the bitterest medicine ever yet meted out to newspaper men. They were so compelled after making every effort to show those editors the evil effects of their destructive propaganda. Two editors listened to the deputation sent by the Board of Trade and promised to be more discreet, but the editor of the Consorzio organ declared in a manner so congenial to a sneak that he would publish what he wished. After three days more of this furious work of destruction those who saw financial ruin alone the result of this pernicious campaign were compelled in defence of their firms and their country to publicly proclaim those offenders and traitors from the house tops, and, the resolutions published yesterday were the result. To the credit of the exporters be it said that a couple of firms who had opposed the regulations, placed duty before personal feelings and endorsed the resolutions, making the result unanimous.

The Exporters' Association, in those resolutions, made it clear to all concerned, that the regulations were endorsed by them as a body, and it was in close touch with the Minister of Fisheries and the Exportation Board.

How any sane writer could brazenly state that the responsibility for this season's regulations rested on Mr. Coaker's shoulders alone is but an instance of how far some writers can trample on Truth. The Exportation Board in the first place is composed of six licensed exporters, outside of the Minister. Every regulation in force to-day was unanimously passed by that Board. There was not a dissenting vote cast, during the deliberation of days and nights which the Board devoted to the consideration of those regulations. When any important question arose it was submitted to the Exporters' Association and generally solved by a resolution of the association to the Exportation Board. The closest harmony prevailed and still prevails between the Exportation Board and the Association of Exporters. Every exporter is eligible for membership in the association; only three firms have abstained from enrolling in that association.

The pleasure which the trouble with Italy has apparently afforded the communist press, is an indication of the anxiety it possesses to discredit and destroy the financial, commercial, as well as the political independence of the people and country. They have revealed the cloven hoof, and any intelligent man who possesses reason who in future is influenced by claptrap uttered by those papers, is just as great an enemy of Newfoundland as was the bitterest German carrying a gun during the years of war.

The whole country is indebted to the Exporters' Association for its first attempt to protect the national interests, and we trust that the great influence of that powerful organization will always be exercised in like manner.

"Labrador" Fish For U. S. A.

A Gazette Extraordinary issued last night contains a new Regulation with regard to Labrador fish shipped to the United States. A great deal of trouble and injury to the Colony's interests is caused by New York firms which ship Newfoundland fish to European markets and undersell that sent from here, thus causing a big loss on the bulk of our fish. The new regulation provides that fish going to the United States will have to be sold outright at prices set by the Government regulations. It is worded as follows:

"No License Holder shall ship any Codfish known as 'Labrador' to the United States of America unless the same shall have been sold outright before shipment at the prices set forth in the Schedule of prices in respect to New York."

CLINICAL SOCIETY MEETS

On Wednesday night there was held at the Board of Health the first meeting of the Newfoundland Clinical Society of Medicine. Twenty-two members of the Profession were present including several visiting medical men. Drs. Keegan, and Macpherson were the appointed speakers for the evening, and spoke with the wisdom of great experience. Their papers received marked attention and the discussion following them was entered into warmly by the Profession. The Profession hopes to increase soon its Society Meetings and the scope of its work, and the initial meeting points to a successful future.

MET STORMY WEATHER

The schr. Sordello which left port on Wednesday morning with a full cargo of hard pine for the A.N.D. Co. at Botwood, returned to port yesterday at noon. The Sordello experienced very rough weather and was unable to get around Cape St. Francis. The seas swept the heavily laden vessel fore and aft making it very difficult for the crew to get about the decks, as it was impossible to proceed any further the Captain decided to return to port and await a more favorable time to proceed north.

The Matter of Control!

The Opposition Press are still troubling about the principle of control, utterly oblivious to the fact that other countries still exercise control over certain commodities. Australia, for instance, still controls the export of her wheat, and England still purchases for her people. In Australia it is pointed out that while conditions are not normal, it was "desirable to have one seller to meet a limited number of buyers." This means that if Australia held no control of wheat export, one seller would go below his competitor in price, and consequently the whole country would suffer by low prices. This is exactly the viewpoint of the Government here. Free trading would immediately enable the few firms who are accustomed to make fortunes out of early fish and let the man who brings along fish later take all the losses, sell fish for whatever price they wish and leave the rest of our fish to be sold for what it will fetch.

There has been a decrease in the price of rice, and having bought a considerable quantity, at high prices, Cuba, through its Government, has prohibited the importation of rice, the object being to protect the country from a financial crisis by preventing the dumping of rice into it.

We give this instance to show that control is not something which is peculiar to Newfoundland alone. Abnormal conditions demand unusual treatment and the total reconstruction is not something which can come overnight. It will take sometime to get back to normal, and all countries and their Governments are only too pleased to have done away with control as soon as possible. To drop the Fish Regulations now would be to court disaster. The names of the members of the Fish Exporters Association are sufficient to show that the best that can be done is being done. The Opposition press have gone out of their way to create a lack of confidence in the country, and the fruit of their propaganda has not in one single case been a benefit to the Trade on the country. There is only a ghoulish glee in spreading an item of bad news, and the fault is intensified when it is a falsehood in the bargain. The Trade has been injured by the "blue ruin" stories, and we know of more than one case where foreign companies have curtailed their risks in this country simply because some of the political pirates in opposition at the present time have not hesitated to damn the country by unreasonable and unjust propaganda, creating unrest and a lack of confidence that will take all the efforts of patriotic Newfoundlanders to set right. "Boost your country, don't slam it."

a great acquisition to the institution. He and Mrs. Fletcher have already gone into residence there in the superintendent's quarters. The detachment drills Tuesday and Friday and have recently been kitted. They also have had sent in a new supply of rifles and the lads are well pleased in consequence.

The officers met on Tuesday evening in their mess room and the President was in the chair with a good attendance. The reports of various committees were received and discussed, including the wearing of kit by the lads of C. Co. during school and after school hours. Since last meeting a brother officer in the person of Lieut. James Pittman, officer commanding Shannon Munn Orphanage detachment has answered the Great Roll Call. The late Lieut. Pittman was a war veteran and did yeoman service with the Royal Nfld. Regiment in Flanders fields, was wounded and severely injured which affected his system so badly that he was a sufferer ever since and it has resulted in his death at Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax, where he had gone some weeks ago in search of special treatment. Lieut. Pittman, was a man of retiring disposition, devoted to his Church, the Brigade and the orphan boys amongst whom his last few months of life was spent. A resolution of condolence is being prepared a street car, but had both her legs cut off.

will be sent to his aged father, Mr. Samuel Pittman, of New Perlican who has the Brigade's sincerest sympathy. The funeral took place at New Perlican last Monday and the Brigade lads under Major Anderson, of Heart's Content marched three miles to pay their respect to a war hero and a gallant officer. "After life's fitful fever he sleeps well."

The Brigade school is still active. Last night Lieut. Geo. Hunt was in sole charge, Lieut. Perlin being on duty with the recruits, and Lieut. Emerson, Presiding Officer, and Lieut. R. G. Ash, B.C., being absent on leave. The scholars are keenly interested but the school can accommodate some twenty more pupils and any lad wishing to learn the rudiments can join without fees. The school meets Tuesdays and Thursdays. A few nights ago the lads were given a short address by Major Williams on a most interesting topic, the President Emerson is arranging for a course of lectures on educational and other subjects during the winter season.

An eleven-year-old Detroit girl, a notoriously poor speller as school, "sacrifice" in a way no teacher could ever criticize. She pulled her five-year-old cousin from in front of a street car, but had both her legs cut off.

Saved Many Lives

Culture Used During the War With Marvellous Results.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The appendicitis operation, hitherto often fatal, is now among the most simple of all surgical operations, as the result of the employment of a serum discovered by Dr. Weinberg, of the Pasteur Institute, which, by nullifying the danger of infection, inspires the recovery of the patient.

"Acting on the principle that a successful operation depends as much on the destruction of bacteria as on clever surgery, I began using the serum some months ago, said Prof. Pierre Delbet to-day. Since then I have been amazed at the successful results. In fact, I have no hesitation in saying that many cases which otherwise would have proved fatal resulted in a quick easy recovery, due to the use of the serum."

Dr. Weinberg discovered the serum, which is a culture from the blood of the horse, during the war. It was used with marvellous success in the treatment of gangrenous wounds. It saved thousands of lives. "I use the serum not only for appendicitis, but for all intestinal operations. From 50 to 100 cubic centimeters is injected immediately following the surgery. The improvement in the patient's condition is manifest almost immediately, and the period of convalescence is invariably shortened."

"While it is too early to assert that Dr. Weinberg's serum is a possible cure for appendicitis without an operation, I can foresee the time when its use as a preventive will make appendicitis surgery unnecessary."

Gulf Islands

Fear Hardships

Deputation From Magdalen Group
Seek Adequate Boat Service.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Fifty miles from Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island, out in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, are the Magdalen Islands, with a population of about seven thousand. They nearly starved last winter because of a break down in the steamship communication with the main land, and a delegation which interviewed Sir George Foster, Saturday, made a strong appeal for a dependable service which will meet the needs of the situation. The delegation which was introduced by Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, and Hon. J. E. Caron, Federal and Provincial members, respectively, for the Islands, was composed of William Leslie, A. J. Gaudet and J. A. Delaney, of the Islands, and J. T. Bertrand, district engineer of the Public Works Department.

A lengthy memorial was presented showing the extensive fishing industry of the Islands which, for example, are said to put up 12 per cent. of the total lobster pack of the world. A strong plea was made for a steamship service adequate to the needs of the Islands and also to avert a recurrence of the near tragedy of last winter.

Sir George Foster was not favorable to the proposal of a committee of the House that the Government put on a boat in connection with the C. N. R., but suggested that local capital build one in which case an adequate subsidy would be assured. The delegation also saw the Public Works Department and arranged for a Minister of Harbor Improvement, especially at Amherst Island.

WRINKLES AND

RECIPES

Medicine stains can be removed from linen with strong ammonia.

A mixture of soap starch and milk will remove stains from mildewed linen.

Turpentine added to the water when washing a floor will preserve the carpet from moth.

Cayenne pepper on wool and broken glass will prevent mice from forcing their way through any hole.

Starch will mix much better if a pinch of borax and a piece of soap are added before the water is poured on.

Two parts of spirits of ammonia to one of turpentine will soften old paint or varnish and make its removal easy.

A cupful of vinegar placed in the water in which colored garments are soaked before washing will prevent the colour from running.

When boiling fish, remove all scum as it rises to the top of the water. It deadens the flavour of the fish if allowed to remain in the pan.

In order to avoid striking and perhaps breaking the bottom of a china umbrella stand, place a sponge there. This will absorb the water from the umbrellas.

Do not put away for any length of time linen that has been starched. It is apt to crack. Rinse the articles quite free from starch, dry, and fold up in blue paper. The latter prevents them from turning yellow.

Have You Tried an Adjusted Gillette Shave?

This is an exclusive extra-comfort feature of the Gillette Safety Razor. Have you taken advantage of it? Some Gillette users never do, because even without it they get so good a shave they never think of looking for a better one. Others, though, get still greater comfort, by adjusting the blade to suit the skin and the closeness of the shave they want. So can you.

If the beard is soft or the skin tender, screw the handle up tight, drawing the edge of the blade close to the guard, so that it slips lightly over the face.

For closer work on a heavy beard loosen the handle an eighth of a turn. The blade gets more hold and shaves extra clean, leaving the face as smooth as can be.

You'll quickly find the adjustment that just suits you—and then you'll enjoy your Gillette more than ever.

Whatever adjustment you like best, be sure to use the Angle Stroke, drawing the edge of the blade across the beard. This is a very simple feature, and one that makes the adjustable Gillette shave really perfect.

Yet Deceased Widow Drugged At Washings.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Neighbours of Mrs. Alice Berkman, who knew her only as an elderly widow eking out a precarious living by drudgery over washtubs, heard with surprise today that after she had dropped dead yesterday the police found more than $5,000 in her clothing and in banks.

In one of her stockings was a package containing $2,100 in currency, she had a deposit of $5,000 to the Illinois Trust & Savings bank, and a considerable sum was pinned inside her corset. Mrs. Berkman's husband died several years ago, and she sold most of their belongings and took up her abode in a one-room house on the edge of the lonely prairie. She had been engaged by a number of families to do their washing, and while thus engaged at the home of D. N. Harnley she fell dead over the washtub.

Police who took away her body thought it a case for Potter's field, but the ambulance physicians suggested

The Open Season, in which Beavers may be hunted, killed, etc., under License, extends from March 1st to March 15th.

Published by Authority.

His Excellency the Governor-in-Council has been pleased to make and publish the following Regulations under the provisions of "The Beaver Act, 1920."

FRED M. STIRLING,
For Deputy Colonial Secretary.

Dept. of the Colonial Secretary,
October 19th, 1920.

(1) No person shall hunt, kill, trap, pursue, or take Beavers in any area in which hunting, killing, trapping, pursuing, or taking is lawful without first having obtained a License from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

(2) Licenses shall be issued only to bona fide trappers who have been residents of the Colony for at least three years before application for a License, and who have trapped in one section of the Colony for the same period.

(3) Every application for a Beaver License shall be in writing, and shall have endorsed, or attached to it, a Certificate from a Stipendiary Magistrate that the applicant is a bona fide trapper. It shall contain a statement that the applicant desires a License to take a certain number of Beavers, (not more than 25), from a section of the Colony described in the application. It shall be accompanied by an Affidavit made before a Stipendiary Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, setting forth the applicant's place of residence in the Colony for the three years immediately preceding application, and the boundaries of that section of the Colony in which the applicant has operated for trapping purposes.

(4) Every License-Holder shall deliver his License to the nearest Stipendiary Magistrate upon expiration thereof, together with all unused Tags. He shall also deliver up to the said Stipendiary Magistrate the skins of all Beavers killed by him during the term of his license. Every such skin shall have a tag attached thereto, as provided in Section 5 hereof. He shall also make a sworn statement showing the number of Beavers killed or taken by him during the season, that the skins delivered are of Beavers killed under his License, and that he has complied with all the provisions of the Beaver Acts, and the Regulations made thereunder. The Magistrate who receives said License, skins, tags and statement shall immediately forward the same to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

(5) Each License shall have attached thereto twenty-five Tags numbered consecutively, which Tags shall have printed thereon the number of the License, the name and address of the Licensee, and the section of the country covered by the License. The Licensee shall as soon as possible after any Beaver is killed, attach securely to the skin of such Beaver one of the Tags furnished with his License, and shall keep the Tag so secured until the skin is delivered in accordance with the provisions of Regulation 4 hereof.

(6) Not more than 25 Beavers shall be killed or taken by any License Holder.

(7) No Licensee shall destroy or damage any Beaver House or Dams.

On the recommendation of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and under the provisions of "The Beaver Act, 1920," His Excellency the Governor in Council has been pleased to approve the following amendment to the Rules and Regulations respecting the killing of Beavers, of date October 19th instant, namely:

IN MEMORY OF EX-PRIVATE NATHANIEL HARVEY

(To the Editor)
Dear Sir,—Kindly permit me space in your widely read paper to record the death of Ex-Private Nathaniel Harvey, eldest son of Wm. and Eliza J. Harvey of Roger's Cove. He was just in the blossom of life, not quite twenty three years of age. He spent two years in the Royal Newfoundland Regiment; in November 1917 he joined up quite willing to give up his young life for home and country if it was his lot to fall on the Field of Battle. With many other gallant boys he was transferred to England where he spent most of his time in Hospital under treatment there; there he stayed until Peace was proclaimed. June 1919 he returned home to enjoy the remainder of his life with his wife and parents and was keeping quite well up till July 1920. Then after suffering two months the Blessed Lord called him home to wait in Paradise. He was just simply waiting for the voice of God. He leaves to mourn him a young widow, a baby girl, father, mother two brothers and two sisters besides a large number of relations. We trust the wife and baby will be comforted and in a later day they will meet their loving husband and father where they will be for ever joined hand in hand around God's Throne in Heaven. No more sleepless nights Nathaniel. No more weary hours of pain. You are resting now with Jesus. And our loss is but your gain. You sleep beside your brother. You are gone to a fairer clime. Your name is written in letters of love. In the hearts you've left behind.

'Tis hard to part from those we love. But still we must obey. When Jesus calls us we must go. We cannot have our way. Inserted by his cousin Piny Harvey. Victoria Cove, Gander Bay, October, 15 1920.

Startling Charge by Canon Scott

Quebec Chaplain Uses Blunt Language Regarding Ross Rifle Matters.

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 14.—When Sir Charles Ross brought action against the Canadian Government for $15,000,000, the Government did not dare to allow the case to go to court, because they feared that the truth about the Ross rifle, the crime of crimes against the Canadian soldiers, might come out, and they gave $3,000,000 as hush money. I demand an investigation into the Ross rifle. Let them put me in the box and do anything they like with me, but let the people not think that they can do anything to hush this thing up. This statement by Canon Scott, of Quebec, senior chaplain of the first Canadian Division during the war, was heard by more than a thousand people at a public meeting here last night. Canon Scott charged that through Sir Sam Hughes' insistence upon the Ross rifle many Canadians lost their lives in the war, and declared that General Alderson was removed because he wrote a letter protesting against its use.

"Who are you?" asked the magistrate of a witness at Old Street Police Court. "I am the daughter of my mother," was the reply.

World Changes in Postal Rules

Pay for Mails on Gold Basis—Pan-American Control.

MADRID, Oct. 11.—Changes of sweeping importance in the postal relations of the world will be effected as a result of the deliberations in the International Postal Union Congress during the past week.

As the committees in most cases fairly represent the views of the entire body of delegates, their reports are virtually certain of acceptance. The notable items upon which the committees reported favorably are:

1. The establishment of international payments for the transit of mails on a gold dollar basis.

2. The fixing of an increased maximum rate for postage on international mail, but with the proviso that the various countries may retain the present rates or fix their rates according to their own ideas so long as they do not exceed the maximum accepted by the Union.

3. In future congresses only parent countries will have voting power, colonies being excluded from voting, although they may send delegates.

4. The creation of a pan-American postal federation.

There was a long discussion over the question of payment for the transit of mails owing to the extreme variation in money values in European countries since the war, but all the delegates eventually agreed that some firm basis must be chosen and the gold dollar was adopted as the most stable.

The committee, seeing their firm stand, finally accepted the position that the western hemisphere could fix its own rates if they did not exceed the maximum eventually adopted by the Union.

The question of voting power for colonies was hotly debated, Germany joining the eastern hemisphere in declaring that colonies should form part of the mother countries, although they should be empowered to send delegates without votes.

SING SING DRY

Use of Bay Rum and Perfume Now Forbidden.

(Canadian Press Service)

OSSINING, Oct. 13.—Sing Sing prison went bone dry to-day. An order was issued forbidding the use of bay rum, toilet water, perfume, witch hazel or any other preparation containing alcohol, either in the barber shop or by the inmates. Soap and talcum powder will be permitted for shaving purposes in future.

The new order, it was stated, is a precautionary measure to prevent prisoners from obtaining alcohol.

"I hardly think," said the solicitor, "that you can get a separation from your wife on account of her making a practice of throwing things at the dog."

"But," said the man with the haggard look, "every time she throws things at the dog she hits me."

MRS. LAURA RARICK, of Peoria, Ill., who says she believes she is the happiest woman on earth since Tanlac so completely restored her health. Regains 50 pounds which she lost during a period of ill health which lasted eleven long years.

"I believe I am the happiest woman in the world, and it is all because of what Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. Laura Rarick, 403 Melroth St., Peoria, Ill., a well-known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I never dreamed that I would ever find anything that would do for me what Tanlac has done," she said. "I was in a wretched state of health and was down in bed so long that I lost fifty pounds in weight, but I have gained back every pound I lost and I now feel as well as I ever did in my life. The indigestion and other troubles that made life a burden for eleven years have entirely disappeared and I am like a new woman."

"My stomach was so disordered that even liquid foods and plain water caused me to have dreadful cramping spells that lasted for hours. My kidneys were disordered and I had pains across my back almost constantly. I had severe headaches nearly every day and became so dizzy I could hardly stand. I was so nervous it was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. I tried every conceivable medicine and was treated by specialists, but nothing helped me, and finally I was told I would never be well again. "But Tanlac has made me a perfectly well woman in every way. I can now eat and sleep like other people and I haven't a pain about me. "I am glad to give this statement, for I want to do all I can to let the world know about this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, in Musgrave Harbor by T. W. Abbott, in Pader's Cove by T. P. Currie, in Joe Batt's Arm by Michael Hackett, in New Perfection by E. J. Green, in Point aux Gauls by Edgar Hillier, in Dildo by Samuel J. Pretty, in Glovertown by Daniel Burton, in Old Perfection by Moses Burney, in Lewisporte by Urah Frazz, in Holyrood by William Coady, in Morton's Harbor by A. W. Brett, in Bonanza by Wm. F. Hynes, and in Brenda Bay by Butte Bros.

POLICE COURT

A sailor who was paid off from the Rosalind yesterday was arrested last night in a residence on LeMarchant Road considerably under the influence of liquor. A telephone message to the police station brought officers O'Neill and King to the residence of a J. P. living on LeMarchant Road, who entertained his visitor until the law officers appeared on the scene. The inebriate came along quietly until the top of Long's Hill was reached when he kicked out and the police were obliged to handcuff him. This morning he pleaded guilty to the charge of drunk and disorderly and was fined $2 or 7 days.

THEATRICALS AT BELL ISLAND THE PLAY "MAVOURNEEN" A DRAMATIC TREAT.

The performance of the Irish comedy drama "Mavourneen," in the Star Hall last week gave Bell Is. two evenings of pure unalloyed pleasure, and the Company presenting the play are to be congratulated on furnishing a delightful break to the usual routine of social life here. It was only a short time ago that we had an opportunity of witnessing our players in "My Friend from India," a charming little sketch which His Grace Archbishop Roche said would do credit to our best city actors; "Mavourneen," however, was an ambitious effort and we are glad to see that it was such a success. It undoubtedly proves there is considerable talent on Bell Island and we hope to see that talent exploited to even greater advantage during the winter months.

The burden of "Mavourneen" was borne by Capt. Leo Murphy, who as Larry Dwyer had a very long part, to which he was perfectly suited. He was at home in the role, and his several local allusions convulsed the audience. Miss Isabel Jackson was "Lady Caroline," a difficult character, but one she played extremely well. We shall expect to see more of her in our future entertainments. Miss Annie Murphy was the light-hearted Lady May Tyrrell; Miss Bessie Connors the deserted wife and Miss Bessie English the quiet, charming old Irish lady, Mrs. Dwyer; These three roles were in good hands, and they were well handled. Mr. Chas. Peddle was the aged cleric, Father Maloney; Mr. Ralph Burnham was the prosperous John Dwyer, the man of the world; Mr. Rivlin Costigan was the sneering Capt. Marchmont; Mr. Patrick Murphy the overbearing footman; Mr. J. F. McEvoy, Colonel Carrington; and Master Will Jardine and George Dennihy, the two romping children who are the joy of Larry's life. Each of these parts was important; each had a very direct bearing on the mise-en-scene, and it must be said that they were carefully delineated.

The stage was at all times an attractive picture. Complete scenic accessories, with electric foot and border lights, are new to the Iron Isle, but when the Star Hall is finally equipped there will be many surprises for lovers of entertainment. The vocal numbers, too, added greatly to the general atmosphere of the play. The solo, "Kathleen Mavourneen" by Mr. Fred. Jardine; the songs of Mrs. W. Lindsay, Mrs. E. J. Ring, Mrs. R. P. Greene, Mr. John B. Murphy, Mr. J. Humber and Mr. H. Gover, as well as the musical settings of Mrs. J. B. Murphy and Miss B. English rounded out a very well-balanced programme. The performers are likewise grateful to Mr. J. M. Greene, Mr. Dan Steele, Mr. Fred Wade and Mr. J. Connors for willing assistance in the general management. Financially, the play was a success and a handsome sum realized for one of the leading Catholic organizations on the Island, while, socially, it is the unanimous wish of the people that the Company will remain together and with their dramatic ability help to enliven the quiet evenings of the indoor season.

A short but very acceptable musical programme was rendered, selections being given by Messrs. G. Cox and Bert Snow and Miss Bartlett, and clever club swinging by Miss Vasey. The financial object aimed at was more than realized.
